“Founky”

Most beauty ever seen, far away from TV screen

Children facing big ice cream, seems they're living in a dream.

Oh No they don't need any money, 'cos they just mind to play

Talk to stranger easily, as if they met already

Now please look at the world, focus a little while And tell me what you see

So Easy to get a gun, oh lord It is war in the streets

I'm not here to blame them brother Not even juge them sister

We're just witness here Totally helpless Of That reality

Every single day should be, a great opportunity

To love and share with anybody, our best as human been

I don't give one minute, if you scrunch and drop one hundred dollar bill.

How it is possible
To many people are leaving in the street

Oh please don't blame them brother

Oh please don't judge them sister

When You lose all you've got Appear a new vision of your reality.
